Two Restaurants in the Imperial Hotel Tokyo Have Been Awarded MICHELIN Guide Tokyo 2023 Stars.

Tokyo, Japan; November 25th, 2022: Tokyo's 132 year-old Imperial Hotel has announced that two of its restaurants have been awarded MICHELIN stars.

The Imperial's French dining room Les Saisons and its Japanese restaurant Torakuro in Tokyo have been listed in the MICHELIN Guide Tokyo 2023 as one star dining choices offering excellent dishes worth visiting when nearby.

Les Saisons has been awarded one star for 16 consecutive years since 2008, when the MICHELIN Guide Tokyo was first published. In addition, Torakuro, which opened in November 2021, won its award for the first time just one year after opening.

The lavish and irresistible creativity of Chef Thierry Voisin in the Imperial Hotel's handsome French dining room Les Saisons offers French cuisine with carefully selected ingredients and new sensibilities while being based on tradition.

Les Saisons Chef Thierry Voisin commented on being awarded the MICHELIN star as follows: "We are very honored to receive such an evaluation for 16 consecutive years. I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to all of our customers and related parties, and most of all, to our family-like friends who work hard every day. We will continue to do our best to meet your expectations."

Torakuro uses seasonal ingredients cooked by its chef Masashi Takami, who continues to pursue excellence. It's a Japanese restaurant that combines the traditions of the Imperial Hotel with the spirit of innovation and respect for all five senses.

Chef Masashi Takami commented as follow: "Thank you for giving us such an evaluation. This evaluation is thanks to the efforts of everyone involved in the Imperial Hotel Torakuro. We will continue without being complacent to work together with our staff to ensure our customers can have the best experience possible."
